Whole Population of Leninakan Thrown Into a Panic

LENINAKAN, Armenia, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Many persons were killed and scores injured and the whole population was thrown into panic by an earthquake, which shook all of Armenia late last night.

Many houses collapsed, telegraph wires were wrecked, trees uprooted and cattle killed.

There was no loss of life among the large personnel of the American Near East Relief, or the 9,000 American orphans under their care.

This was due to the sturdy construction of the old stone czarist military barracks, in which they are housed, and the splendid discipline by the Americans among the children.

HUNDREDS DEAD

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Hundreds of persons were killed, thousands injured and other thousands made homeless by the earthquake which shook Armenia late last night, said a cablegram to the Near East Relief today from Erivan.

All of the 40 American workers of Near East Relief are safe, the message said.

Buildings of the Near East Relief at Leninakan were damaged. Children in the organization's orphanage and workers are sleeping in tents. Doctors and nurses aided in caring for the injured.

The cablegram requested an appropriation to meet the emergency. The Near East Relief centered its American activities in Leninakan, where it has been taking care of 9,000 orphans.

Marie's Cold Severe But Condition Is Not Serious

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A physician was called to the royal suite at the Ambassador hotel today to attend Queen Marie, of Rumania, whose cold was considerably aggravated by a strenuous series of speaking engagements yesterday.

Her lady-in-waiting had announced earlier that the queen's cold was slightly improved but later Dr. Albert B. Buel was summoned. He was accompanied by Tleston Wells the Rumanian consul-general.

The queen's condition was said to be not serious and the doctor's visit did not disarrange today's schedule of either the Prince or Princess. Prince Nicholas left in his roadster to visit the Brooklyn navy yards. The delegation of Girl Scouts escorted the Princess to Capitol theatre for a reception.

Cop Loses Pants In Struggle With Joyous "Studes"

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Eleven joyous college students paid Birmingham $5.00 each in police court today as result of early morning scrimmages in the Redmont hotel and the night club in which Policeman Brady lost a perfectly good pair of trousers.

Pre-game celebrants caused a roughhouse and police were summoned. Brady was tackled at the Redmont and sustained considerable yardage loss, together with his pants. Charges of disorderly conduct against several other students were dropped.

Eleven defendants arrested in the two raids seemed somewhat worse for their experience when they faced the judge, but were smiling at the thought of being on hand for the Alabama-Sewanee game this afternoon.

BACHELOR PLACED IN JEFFERSON JAIL

Slayer of Judge Says He Is Disappointed By the Transfer

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Clyde Reese Bachelor, under death sentence for murder of Judge Lamar Smith, his father-in-law, is in the Jefferson county jail here, where he was brought for safekeeping today from Montgomery county jail, Montgomery.

He was removed by order of Judge Leon McCord. Safekeeping was the reason the judge set out for his removal.

Under guard of Sheriff Phelps, Chief Deputy Jones and another deputy of Montgomery county, he arrived here at 11:10 o'clock Saturday forenoon. They came in an automobile from Montgomery, leaving there at 8:15, according to Bachelor.

A Montgomery attorney accompanied them.

Bachelor's handcuffs were removed after he was led into the warden's office here and he was taken inside, where the identification superintendent photographed him and took his fingerprints. He then was taken to a cell, which he shares with Dr. Baker, dentist, who is held on a felony charge.

Bachelor was not aware of plans to transfer him from the Montgomery county prison until breakfast. He seemed downcast over his removal to Birmingham.

"I can't see what in the world they wanted to move me for," he told a reporter. "I had much rather stay in Montgomery than here. I could see my parents, brothers and other relatives and friends often there. My people and friends are so far away I shall not be able to see them frequently here."

Dora's pastor has suggested that his workers strive for an attendance of 250 tomorrow, while Southside hopes to exceed that figure and has established a goal of 255.

Realty Dragging In Florida Now

St. Petersburg has as many visitors as in previous years, he reported, but really there is not being sold rapidly. Those communities which are surrounded by good farming territory are doing well, the others are not.

OFFICERS TRACING WOMAN FOUND SLAIN STILL BALKED

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Authorities of Hamilton county, investigating the death of Beulah Purvis, 19, Lawrenceburg, Ind., today were apparently no nearer a solution of the mystery when the girl's body was found, scantily clad, and badly beaten, in the river near Cleves, Ohio, last Wednesday. Deputies investigating the case learned that on Sunday night, October 10, Miss Purvis went to a skating rink at Harrison, O., with Miss June Boonworth, of Harrison, and Ray Liming and Richard Ratz, of Carmel, Ind.

Miss Boonworth said she and the two men left the Purvis girl at the rink. The next trace of her

GEORGIA PLANS TO HOLD COTTON BUT TO PROVIDE FUNDS

Banks Of State Able To Finance The Proposal

300,000 BALES BE WITHDRAWN

Meyer Confers With Bankers And Growers

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 23.—(AP)—That definite steps will be taken in Georgia to relieve the situation brought about by the low price of cotton was indicated today at a conference of more than 300 representative bankers, business men and agricultural leaders, with Eugene Meyer, Jr., chairman of the war finance corporation, and head of President's Coolidge's cotton commission.

Remedial measures are expected to include the utilization of the resources of Georgia, to finance the withdrawal from market of 300,000 bales of the present cotton crop, and of the machinery of the Georgia Cotton Growers Co-operative Association to market this surplus in orderly manner.

Mr. Meyer outlined the tentative program arranged at the recent south-wide cotton conference in Memphis and approved by a general gathering of bankers and business men in various cotton growing states.

While the resources of the intermediate credit banks have been offered to the Georgia bankers by S. A. Williams, chairman of the farm loan board, it developed at the conference that Georgia bankers are confident of their ability to finance the cotton withdrawal in the state without assistance from that source.

Morrow Victim Of Many Mishaps

Mert Morrow, formerly a well known local resident, and now superintendent of a steel plant in Chicago, is seriously ill in Chicago as result of a series of misfortunes.

Sometime ago Mr. Morrow was injured in an unusual manner. As he was superintending some work in the plant in his charge, something struck a pot of molten metal and bits of the hot mixture struck him in the mouth, going down his throat. He was painfully burned.

On his recovery he was afflicted with a "rash" which is said to oftentimes follow severe burns.

Now he is threatened with pneumonia.

Gangster Killed By An Explosion

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The premature detonation of an explosive in the doorway of a West-side store early today trapped and killed "Three Fingers Pete" Kosinsky, 29, liquor gangster, and buried his torn body beneath the debris of the shop front.

With the identification of the victim, police turned from the theory of another trade war booming and belief that Kosinsky was on a safe-blowing mission, killed in an attempt to obtain defense funds for Joe Salts, clique chieftain, awaiting trial for murder.

Kosinsky was captured recently in the Wisconsin woods with Salts, but was released.

LABORER BATTERS HIS GIRLS TO DEATH AS THEY SLEEP

ONE GRASPED HER RAG DOLL

FOURTH DAUGHTER GETS AWAY AFTER FIGHT WITH HER FATHER

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 23.—(AP)—James Stoddard, a laborer, battered to death with an axe three of his four daughters, as they slept in a cheerless little third story apartment here this morning.

Stoddard, 36 years old, with a long police record for intoxication arrests, recently was charged with failing to support the children. His victims were: Mildred, seven, Edna eleven and Florence 13.

Marion, the fourth daughter, who was in bed with Edna awoke as her father struck her sister and grappled with him. Breaking from his grasp, she fled to the street, where a pedestrian gave the alarm that brought police.

A squad of officers found Stoddard, axe in hand, apparently about to leave the house.

"I just killed my three kids and I want to get the other one," he told them as they disarmed him. Stoddard declared he had been drinking for two weeks prior to last Sunday, when he had decided to quit.

A hallucination that a former employer had chased the children home and was preparing to "burn them" or otherwise cause them harm made him resolve to kill himself, he asserted in an incoherent narrative at police headquarters.

He had been chopping wood with the axe in the afternoon and in the evening his mind became dazed.

"In order to save the children from being burned, the thought came to me, while I was sitting in the rocking chair by the stove that I had better kill them myself," said his rambling statement.

"I got up out of the chair and went to the outside of the porch and got the axe hanging there. Then I went into Marion and Edna's room and hit Edna with the axe. Marion got up and ran away and I went and got a glass of water and I thought I might have made a mistake and did not know what to do."

Police discovered the bodies in the blood spattered beds of the cheaply furnished rooms. Little Mildred still clasped a rag doll to her bosom. The three children apparently had died instantly.

Stoddard submitted quietly to arrest and interrogation, but when confined in a cell, tore off his clothing. He was overpowered by officers and then fell into a coma.

The man was arrested last summer on a charge of failure to contribute to the support of his children but an aunt of the girls promised to keep the household together. Stoddard had not worked recently.

His mother is said to have died in an insane asylum. Stoddard himself had been under observation for sanity several years ago.

Bribery Charge Is Made Against Contracting Co.

DETROIT, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A warrant, charging John M. Bates, an investigator for the Ford company.

The Ford company recently started suit against the Blair company, asking an accounting and cancellation of the contract which affects construction work underway in Memphis, Tenn., Somerville, Mass., and Detroit.

The complaint alleged the defendant company bribed Ford employees to accept inferior material at exorbitant prices in connection with the work.

CINCINNATI—Can dolls cement international friendship?

The women of the Ohio Council of Churches believe so, and are planning to send thousands of dolls to Japan during December to be distributed in time for the annual Doll Festival—the great gala holiday of the Japanese observed every year on March 3.

Possibly 25,000 "doll messengers of friendship" will be shipped to the Orient for distribution through the public schools in all parts of Japan, according to the present plans of the organization.

Innumerable Middle-Westerners, who admit they have not done much hobnobbing with royalty, are spending considerable money on etiquette books in anticipation of the visit of Queen Marie, of Rumania, book-dealers declare.

Residents of Ohio and Indiana will subscribe several millions of dollars to two Jewish relief drives that have been underway in the United States for nearly six months, it has been estimated.

One of the drives is for general Jewish relief work, with a goal of $25,000,000, and the other is for $20,000,000 to be used in Palestine.

Pedestrians are becoming less careful, according to a report made by city officials here following a three-months traffic survey.

The report disclosed that an average of six persons were struck by automobiles here during every day of last month. The average was higher in every city of the same or greater population, the report inferred.

Mrs. M. Hill, citizen of Dayton, Ky., has announced that she will carefully search her husband's overalls before washing them again. She reported to secret service officials that the last time the working clothes were laundered she ruined a perfectly good $5 bill that had been left in one of the pockets.

She produced the ruined currency and after much "red-tape" she was awarded a crisp new one. "Never again," said Mrs. Hill, "Uncle Sam made me wait too long."

Even as it did in the days of the stagecoach and the early years of railroading, shipping on the historic Ohio river may again flourish.

Of the 50 locks and dams that will provide a permanent nine-foot stage in 1,000 miles of the river from Pittsburgh to Cairo, 42 have been completed and eight are expected to be finished within a few years, the Ohio Valley Improvement Association has announced.

The unfinished dams are located in the lower stretch of the river between Louisville and Cairo, in Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois. The dam at Louisville is also being rebuilt to provide hydro-electric power.

Once the system is completed, large river freight boats, somewhat speedier than the ancient flat-boats, are expected to carry on a much more extensive service between New Orleans and the steel and coal center of Pennsylvania.

Druggists Depend On Cosmetics For Winning Daily Bread and Butter

By International News Service

FRENCH LICK SPRINGS, Ind.

"Druggists can safely depend on winning their bread and butter by selling cosmetics to America's girls."

That was the statement made here before the National Wholesale Druggists' Association by P. A. Hayes of Greensboro, N. C., vice-president of the organization.

And the American women do not want anything cheap either, according to Hayes. He said they refuse to look at any powder that has a price label less than $1.

Where perfumes are concerned, according to Hayes, they have to be imported and carry a nice price tag well above the $1 mark if milady will even condescend to gaze at it.

The demand is increasing too, Hayes admitted. He says that it is not enough that there are now more than 100 varieties of rouges, of powders, of perfumes, and the end is not yet.

He blamed newspaper and magazine advertising for the huge demand, which, he said, was assisted by the modern labor saving devices that give milady extra moments in which to primp and beautify herself.

Enrollment High At B'ham School

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 23.—(Special)—Birmingham-Southern college has an enrollment of 993 regular college students, coming from 13 states and one foreign country, it is announced by the registrar, W. W. Hale, following tabulation of complete figures for the first semester. It is expected 100 additional students will enroll the second semester, bringing the total of the year to more than the limit of 1,000 set for 1926-27. Total enrollment for the year, including summer session and the afternoon and Saturday classes, will be around 25,000.

The representation of states is as follows: Alabama 884, Florida 10, Tennessee 9, Georgia 8, Mississippi 6, Missouri 5, Connecticut 5, South Carolina 2, Texas 2, Arkansas 1, Indiana 1, Oklahoma 1, Pennsylvania 1. The one foreign student is from Cuba.

The college football team, the band under direction of Gordon Erickson, and a 125 group of students went to Chattanooga Saturday by special train for the game with University of Chattanooga. Approach of November brings anticipations of the Birmingham grid classic of the year, the annual game between Howard college and Birmingham-Southern, both of the city; at Rickwood Field, November 20.

Democrats in Alabama are preparing to invade republican strongholds in the various counties, with stump speeches during the next two weeks.

New Proposal By Solon Is Given

SELMA, Ala., Oct. 23.—(AP)—

Something new in politics has been proposed by representative-elect Joe Green of Dallas county seasoned legislator, which may aid in solving the convict problem confronting the state at this time. Mr. Green would conduct a poll among the convicts at Flat Top, Banner and other places working convict laborers, in an effort to determine the kind of employment each would choose if allowed such a privilege.

During the Kilby administration, Mr. Green was chairman of a special convict committee of the legislature and in submitting his report of the investigation frankly declared, that a large percentage of the convict mine workers actually preferred mine employment over all others. The men apparently favor the treatment they receive at the mines, which includes ample shelter, good food and cool in the summer season the report says, and the privilege of deriving a profit from their labor has a strong appeal for the men.

According to the Selma Times-Journal, Mr. Green proposes to submit to the convicts a questionnaire and learn first-hand whether these men want to remain in the mines or prefer other employment. Naturally the decisions obtained from the ballot investigation won't grant the prisoners the freedom of selecting their own occupations but it is thought a knowledge of the disposition of the laborers toward their work might have weight with the authority vested over them. Mr. Green brands as "mushy sentiment" the much circulated reports about "the poor convicts immured in these great subterranean caverns," which he says, "the men themselves do not understand and cannot appreciate. Fate In Hands Of Wife, Slayer Says

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 23.—

(AP)—"My wife holds the trump card and I want a new trial and want her to tell the truth," Clyde Reese Bachelor, sentenced to death for the murder of his father-in-law, Judge Lamar C. Smith of Wetumpka, Ala., told a newspaper man this week when he insisted that he did not get justice in his first trial.

What concealed information Bachelor believes his wife possesses, he failed to disclose, but stated in the interview, "there is more to the case than the public knows and if I ever get another trial, I am going to tell it. Bachelor's wife refused to give testimony during his trial at Wetumpka several weeks ago.

Bachelor is exceedingly anxious to see his three-year-old son declaring, "If I could only see the child I would be willing to stay in this jail until it rots down." Mrs. Bachelor and her small son are reported to be at the home of an uncle at Luverne.

Results of liquor raids early this week, reported at the state capital were published as follows:

Capture of 11 stills in Jefferson county, four of 750 gallons capacity, one 500, five 1,000 and one 1,500 gallon still with 2,000 gallons of mash, 35 gallons of whiskey and four arrests; capture of 200, 500, 600 and 1,000 gallon stills in Shelby county, also 3,880 gallons of beer; a 20-gallon still, 170 gallons of beer, three gallons of whiskey and three arrests in Perry county; a 60, 150 and a 200-gallon still, 1,600 gallons of beer and three gallons of whiskey, in Tuscaloosa county.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Nash, is very ill at their home on Fourth avenue.

the proposed ballot would be read with interest throughout Alabama.

Clyde Vann, Montgomery convict, serving a 15-year term for second degree murder, was the recipient of a $250 judgment rendered against him by a jury in the Montgomery circuit court this week, the result of a suit filed by Laura Thomas for $1,000 alleging that she was run down and seriously injured by a truck owned by Vann.

Relatives of Martha Milligan, who disappeared from her home in Baltimore in 1917, supposed her dead and had collected insurance money. Recently a letter was received by the relatives from the woman bearing the date of October 12, 1916 and the Birmingham postmark.
William V. Kail, of Baltimore, brother of the woman, came to Birmingham this week and with the aid of police, is making a thorough search for his sister.

TODAY 12 Years Ago

From The Daily of October 23, 1914.Children of Central Methodist church will bring their Christmas gifts for European children to the church Sunday morning to be packed.

It snowed here one year ago today.

Mrs. B. P. Wallace has returned from Courtland, accompanied by Miss Helen Bynum, who has been ill of fever for some weeks at that place.Mrs. C. B. Elliott returned this afternoon from Birmingham.Mrs. C. K. Lide, who suffered a broken ankle, is improving.Growth is measured in progressive steps, not smoke rings issuing from deep in an easy chair.Another description of the installment business is a great deal of selling without much buying.California's earthquake did not quite match Florida's storm.Another way to improve our language is to improve our roads.Go to church Sunday. You will be helped and your example to your neighbor will be beneficial.Few of its residents do not enjoy leaving the Tennessee Valley occasionally, but fewer still there are who do not enjoy getting back.Not long now to Thanksgiving and not much longer to Christmas. It is high time Santa Claus was getting busy.As the interest rate on matrimonial bonds becomes higher, the period of time covered by the bonds seems to be less.Again may The Daily remind Colonel Graves and the new legislature that a penny a day on cigarettes would keep a number of rural schools open for full terms.

PAPERS URGE FARMERS NOT TO SELL ALL OF THEIR COTTON NOW.

A number of the newspapers over the South, including some of the farmers' own journals, are urging the Southern cotton planters not to dispose of their entire 1926 crop at this time, but to hold at least a part of it.From the reports of cotton sales, however, one would judge that this appeal is having little more effect than the one the newspapers and farm journals published many months ago, urging a reduction in acreage planted this year.In a conversation with a Morgan county farmer the other day, he told The Daily some of the reasons why he did not intend to hold his cotton. He pointed out that his warehouse charge, his insurance charge and other expense would be what he considered heavy and during the time he was holding his cotton, he was pressed for ready money and was running a risk of the market being no higher when it became necessary for him to sell than it is now.Those reasons obviously are sound, but there are more reasons, and The Daily believes better ones, why part of this year's crop should be retained by the individuals and organizations and not placed on the market. It is reasonable to suppose that if 4,000,000 bales are withdrawn, the price will advance.As The Daily pointed out early in the season, this year is probably the first in history that the republican North and East gave a whoop what price was obtained for cotton. This year, however, the Eastern and Northern manufacturers are interested because the South has come to be a big consumer of manufactured goods of all descriptions. Any financial depression in the South would, likewise, create a lax market for these manufacturers who have grown accustomed to disposing of a large part of their output in Dixie.An indication of this interest is given by the action of the republican administration at Washington. Not only has the government promised almost limitless financial aid in holding the cotton, but President Coolidge appointed a committee of his own to study the question of marketing the cotton crop and to provide whatever help would be most beneficial.Never before has the South been in such good condition for holding the crop. Warehouse facilities are better and marketing organizations are stronger. Surely if a holding movement ever gave any indication whatever of likelihood of succeeding, it is in 1927. At least farmers could lose little by giving it a trial.

MINISTER BLAMES GOSSIPS FOR THE LOSS OF HIS REPUTATION.

Out in Muskegon a minister of the gospel has filed five damage suits against five women, alleging that they damaged his reputation by spreading slandorous stories among his congregation about his conduct with a young woman of the city.Naturally at this distant point, it would be difficult to pass with justice upon the merits of these particular cases, but the $5,000 asked by the minister from the defendants, even if collected, could never repay him for the loss of his good name.It is unfortunate that people, when they cast aspersions on the character of others do not realize the seriousness of their act. Surely when the founders of this great country set up the principle of free speech, they did not intend that this privilege should be abused by unscrupulous people who pass along, if they do not originate, nasty, dirty stories about others, oftentimes, no doubt, with the sole aim in mind of attempting to make themselves interesting.Someone has said that low minds are breeders of gossip. That is not entirely true. Many persons of ordinarily high minds are guilty at times of this low practice. It appears to be a peculiar twist in human make-up that persons will, sporadically, become character assassins, seeking whom they may devour, or character buzzards, picking over the remains of a character already dead. Neither role presents a very pretty picture, and the question why so many people on so many occasions will be guilty of the practice remains one of the great unanswered questions.

PRESIDENT EMBARRASSED BY THE CAMPAIGN OF WADSWORTH.

The republican campaign in New York state would be amusing were it not for the fact that many observers see in the effort to re-elect Senator Wadsworth, an effort to bring prohibition to the fore as an issue in the next republican convention.Senator Wadsworth is an avowed anti-eighteenth-amendment senator. He is a candidate for reelection. In their desire to maintain the republican majority in the senate, a number of friends of President Coolidge's administration have been making addresses in New York state in behalf of Senator Wadsworth.The Christian Science Monitor sums up the situation as follows:There does not seem to be much political wisdom in the action of members of President Cool-idge's official family who are making speeches in New York in behalf of the candidacy of Senator Wadsworth. Their plea is that the Senator be re-elected in order to help make up a Republican majority in the Senate which will uphold the hands of the president.Unfortunately, Senator Wadsworth has made paramount in his campaign the support of a theory which is directly opposed to the convictions and policies of the president. He stands for the present nullification and ultimate repeal of constitutional prohibition. Although his party as a national organization has never accepted such a position, he has made it his own. He stands as completely representative of the liquor power within the Republican party as "Al" Smith does in the Democratic party.Should Senator Wadsworth be re-elected, he will be acclaimed the leader of the Republican party in New York. He will lead its delegation to the next national convention, and, if the opportunity seems propitious, will doubtless be its candidate for the presidential nomination.
Should there develop in the convention any opposition to the renomination of the president, Senator Wadsworth, with the record of a wet victory in New York, might well gather about him the foes of the administration which has loyally and with steadily increasing efficiency striven to enforce the prohibition law.New York is the only state in which the liquor question has been thrust to the front to the disruption of the Republican party. In no other state has the Republican nominee for the Senate thus sought to advance his own fortunes by repudiating the position of his party in the nation at large. Whatever personal reasons distinguish Republicans from other states may have for urging upon New Yorkers the support of Wadsworth, party regularity or a desire to support the president has no place among them.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS for the Sabbath and Other Days

BY J. E. BLAIR

Dr. Annie Besant, past president of the International Theosophical Society, who, according to her statement October 15 in an address at Birmingham, is guardian of Jeddho Krishnamurti, who is being put forward by theosophists as the "bodily vehicle of the sixth of the great world teachers." Mrs.
Besant, who is an interesting and pleasing speaker, opened her address by saying that any who expect to develop a right spiritual condition must obtain from eating meat, tobacco, liquors, and give up all excesses. In other words, the speaker was as "hard" on people as any Christian teacher, assuming of course she believes in the decalogue.
Mrs. Besant quoted freely from St. Paul, where that apostle speaks of the war always on between the flesh and the spirit. She held up for the weak, and seemed to teach as high a code of morals as any Christian. First, then those who want to do wrong get no comfort from the theosophists! In other words "the bad" had as well be converted and believe the gospel and be done with it, as far as "giving up" things is concerned. Mrs. Besant said that once her ward did speak or rather become, the "bodily vehicle" of the "sixth great teacher" when it was said through Jeddho, "I am come to be miserable that others may be happy." Very good, but Christ so long ago uttered the same sentiment! In other words, Christ has pre-empted so to speak, the words and the deeds that establish right relationships between men and God. Now Jeddho, might have the words, but he has not died to save the world. He may some time. Jeddho has written a fine little book that was presented to the writer entitled, "At The Feet of the Master," in which he demands right discriminations, and about all that Christians demand of people. He says: "When the flesh speaks that is not your real self, etc." If there is anything NEW, anything better in Jeddho than in Christ, why by all means let us put him where he belongs! Let's be absolutely fair to him.
But has he "out-taught" Christ? Has he died for us, but most of all does Jeddho and his people make as his drive against sin and for prohibition and the like as do red hot Christians? Until it appears that theosophists out do Christians in service, and and it is shown that Jeddho dies for the world and rises from the dead, as did Christ, why make any change? Especially since the theosophists are going to make us quit drinking, smoking and eating meat? Let's not make any change, not yet at least from the gospel of Christ, which has been proven the power of God unto salvation.

QUEEN MARIE sat in the city hall, then went her way. Immediately one woman after another sat in the chair, revealing the survival of fetishism in modern times. The savage, buried in us, believed that inanimate objects have spiritual power and consciousness. A child kicking the table that hurt its head, and a woman sitting in the queen's chair are fetish worshippers, as much as the African witch doctor that carries in his magic bag part of the human brains for cunning, a lion's hair for bravery, the claw of a tiger, a ser-pent's fang, etc.IN HER first message on American soil Queen Marie says:"I am just a woman of fifty, who is brimful of joy and excited pleasure at the thought of seeing you."American ladies, ladies that are fifty and trying to look fifteen, please take notice, joyful woman at fifty, than a poor painted lady with your face lifted, parafine under your skin rouge on your lips, flesh colored silk stocking showing your knees with no object in the world but to look young, which you can't do.MR. WILL ROGERS, who also knows something about advertising, welcomes the Rumanian queen and praises her for running peaches and Aimee Mc-Person back among the ads.The queen will go her ways, however, and Aimee and Peaches—the ones we know, or some others—will come back to the front page.They are our national and permanent intellectual diet.MCKENZIE KING, Canadian premier, says truly that all talk of Canadian annexation by the United States is foolish. It's as foolish as the talk about Canada annexing this country.But Canada and the United States, ruling and owning these northern lands, should be closely united in business, as well as close friends.Americans would welcome a working arrangement by which the free trade between our forty-eight states could be extended to include Canada. That would give Canada the advantage of quantity production in the United States, which she cannot get for herself for a long time to come.FIRST of all would come uniformity in tariff. There is nodifficulty that could not be arranged of both countries.In this country there is no more desire to own Canada than there is in Canada to own the United States. It is an excellent thing for us to have so able a pace-maker on the north.A NUMBER of American financiers, including J. Pierpont Morgan, sign an international manifesto demanding that tariff and other trade barrier oppressed down and free trade established. The manifesto refers, let us hope, to Europe only.ANYBODY who imagines that world-wide prosperity is to be built up by putting American manufacturers and workers on a par with labor and industry in Europe, Asia or Africa, doesn't know the United States.

Ask President Coolidge. He knows.ON OCTOBER 27 the nation will celebrate Navy Day. What has it actually got to celebrate in the way of a modern navy?
The navy on the water is no longer important. Only boats count. There is no use talking about celebrating navy day in this country until we have an air navy worth celebrating.WE HAVE good sailors, good fliers, a few of them, splendid marksmen, any number of brave men willing to do any kind of work. But our navy, if real modern war, came, would be about as useful as the Russian regiments whose ammunition didn't fit their guns.Nothing but flying machines fit modern warfare—whether naval or land warfare.PROUD Americans, good women, especially, are grieved by statements made in modern histories of George Washington.
Men in each generation live as their generation lives.Washington was no exception.
Living in slavery days, he had slaves, their quarters on his mount Vernon plantation are visible. Living in an age when everybody drank, many in moderation, he drank temperately, and manufactured some of his alcoholic drinks, wisely, that he might know what was in them.HIS ANCESTORS, living ten thousand years before Washington, probably practiced cannibalism occasionally. Had he lived then he would have done as they did. Washington did not quite fulfill the ideals of the good 1926 Y. W. C. A., but the ladies should rejoice that he established a nation in which the Y. W. C. A. could become a useful reality.FLYING machines have been used in France to plant treeson dreaded mountain ranges.
The flier scattering seed as he flies.Now fliers will scatter wild rice seed over the marshes in Manitoba, that wild geese and ducks, not men, may eat the crop. It will be a new kind of

FOOD VALUES IGNORED BY VAST MAJORITY

Even College Graduates Seem to Have Little Practical Information on Subject That Touches Their Physical Well-Being.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND.

UNLESS a nation shows wisdom in the care of the children it is not really wise. The length of life of the individual depends upon the foundation laid in childhood. A great church has said that if it can have the first ten years of a child's life there is no question about the religion that the individual will possess during its entire existence.If the state will see to it that proper instruction is given to its youth, not only in the usual subjects taught in the schools, but particularly with reference to how to eat and how to live, then we are on the way toward physical perfection.Every school in North America, it seems to me, should have a course in dietetics. The education of a child has been neglected if he has not been taught the essentials of food values and the food demands of the body.I am amazed when I discuss housekeeping with college graduates.
A great many of these charming individuals, some of them possessing that great prize, membership in the Phi Beta Kappa, know almost nothing about how to cook. They may have some general ideas about the chemistry of foods, but the practical knowledge of how to prepare a meal is as far beyond them as a knowledge of astronomy is beyond a Chinese cook.Why not have instruction in simple cooking taught to the boys as well as to the girls? When they know something about how to cook they will come to realize how important a knowledge of cooking is.
In my judgment this will create a demand in later years for wives who have this knowledge.The pathetic thing about undernourishment is that it is not confined to the homes of the poor. As a matter of fact, in the great cities where there are active health departments, more malnutrition will be found in the homes of the rich than in the homes of the poor. Instruction in how to feed their babies has been given to the mothers in the poorer sections of the city.Mothers living in the tenement quarters are more amenable to instruction. Some mothers living in homes of luxury are prone to think they know all they need to know in regard to foods and the bringing up of babies. This is pathetic. There is only one thing worse than this.
It is to farm out the care of a baby to one who may know even less of foods than does the mother.It is a crime against the race to have any home within the borders of the State left in ignorance of what it means to properly feed a child. I hope that every board of health, every school, every pupil, every woman's club, every newspaper, every medium for the dissemination of information will be used to spread the knowledge of right eating and right breathing and right living in order that malnutrition may fade from the face of the earth.

Answers to Health Queries

M. A. H. Q. What is a suitable remedy to stop the breaking out of pimples?A.—For this condition you will have to correct your diet by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee.
Eat simple food. Almost always constipation or at least sluggish bowel movements are present. Exercise is essential. You should apply some healing lotion twice a day. For other particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Black Winter Is In Prospect For Great Britain, Result Coal Strike

Revenues For Half Year Fall Off By Huge Figures; $108,000,000 Less Than Last Year Reports Reveal From Taxes.By F. A. WRAY International News Service Staff CorrespondentLONDON.—The prospect of a very black winter for Britain is disturbing all social observers.No better criterion of the present state of affairs can be found by the official figures of the country's revenue for the financial half year ending September 30.
These show that revenue was $108,000,000 less than for the corresponding figures of last year, while expenditure was over $20, 000,000 higher. One most important item of revenue—income tax —showed a decrease of $78,000,000.These figures are the results of catastrophes which even yet have not nearly made their full effect felt. The general strike, followed by the long-drawn out miners' strike, have everywhere brought damage to trade and commerce.
Works have been closed, new manufacturers have been postponed, credit has been generally restricted by the banks, luxury trades have been almost suspended, and except in London, theatres, cinemas and amusements generally haveagriculture when the farmer sows his seed" as he sits and takes his ease in his airplane.NEW YORK, the country's biggest city, gives some interesting death facts for 1925.Nine hundred and ninety-four killed themselves. Five thousand and five hundred an eighty-one died violent deaths. Gunmen, bootleggers, etc., contributed to the totals. Automobiles killed a good many—but foolishness is the real killer—foolish eating, drinking, worrying, rushing. Millions kill themselves that do not know it.been hit almost beyond repair.
Miners' StrikeThe miners' strike by itself has been the result of a number of mines being closed down because it will be economically profitable to re-open them. Others, because of safety men being withdrawn, have been permanently damaged or flooded.Many more will find their capital insufficient to re-start working.
Apart from this, valuable markets, hitherto the exclusive stronghold of Britain, have been captured by the United States, Germany and Ireland.As for the miners themselves, their lot is a pitiable one. Few have had sufficient in the shape of strike allowances to maintain their homes. In most districts, relief for wives and children was cut off immediately by the municipality after the first few weeks. The result has been that in endless cases the miners' homes have sold up or else hopelessly mortgaged.

Indirect Effects

Indirect effects have been almost equally serious. Trades dependent on coal fuel have been up to a point only slightly less than the mining industry itself.
Many works have tried to keep going on German coal but have found it unsatisfactory for their needs.
The results has been again the loss of valuable contracts.As regards the town-dwellers who know little of the miner and his conditions, consequences have been almost equally severe. Prices have everywhere risen against him.
He is threatened with new heavy taxation, and municipal assessments are increasing rapidly. Added to that it is impossible for the working and lower middle classes in Britain to pay $18 to $20 per ton for ordinary household coal—almost the only means of interior heating in the country.Altogether, by the loss of coal production, by indirect loss of trade, the strikes this year have cost Britain close on $2,500,000,000.It would have paid everybody to have paid the miners a $1150, 000,000 a year and met their demands. As it is a really wet cold winter threatens to bring about a serious situation in Britain.

Feminine Foibles

By Annette Bradshaw.

JOYCE—"Jane, dear, it's all very well for you, who are perfect in sports clothes, to lounge in mannish pajamas. But Bill says he'll cut my allowance unless I wear frilly things to remind him I'm a dependent. Goodness knows I couldn't take a cut and pay for this new Winter negligee!"

Paris Style Hints

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS.—The reptilian note is one of the most prominent of the winter season.

After first confining themselves to the use of real skins and one or two materials which look like it, the dressmakers are now coming out with it in many ways and for many uses.

Yvonne Davidson is making the loveliest snake skin velvet model which far from being disagreeable to look at, is quite the contrary with its soft shimmering surface and shaded colorings.

Sports clothes are now taking up the reptilian note. The newest sports coats knitted from wool shows crocodile or lizard markings introducing in silk in a contrasting shade against a darker background.

Cuffs and collars made of reptile skin are very smart for tailored costumes and replace those of fur on many for the winter.

A new "reptile" material introduced for evening wear is a silvery one, the surface of which is patterned like crocodile, the marking being in the tissue against a background of net.

One of these models recently seen has sleeves that suggest diamond mittens. The material is silver lace and the long sleeves are cut well over the hand to give a mitten effect and are embroidered with diamonds. There is nothing to prevent the introduction of rubies, emeralds or sapphires, if the designer feels that a better effect will be obtained.

Misses Virginia, Eloise and Grace Tyler of Birmingham, will be the week-end guests of their uncle, Rev. R. T. Tyler.

Heaven bless us! Just a little while ago we were horrified by September morn.

Its not what you feel for but what you stand for that counts.

Helpful Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a girl of twenty-two. Not long ago I met a charming young sailor boy. On the second evening together he told me he loved me. I love him but wonder if he has girls in other ports, and if I am just "a sailor's sweetheart." I have read your good advice to other girls and I thought perhaps you could help me too.

WONDERING. Don't take the sailor boy, or yourself for that matter, too seriously. You hardly know each other. Besides, a prostration of love that comes at the second meeting, may not stand the test of time.

Generally speaking, generalizations are unsafe. This young man who follows the sea, may or may not have a "girl in every port." Time is the only possible test of his sincerity. Give yourself plenty of time before you permit yourself to become serious about him.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am seventeen. There is a young man back home who is five years my senior. We have corresponded regularly for two years. We were always the best of friends and had much in common and I thought nothing of writing him notes once or twice when he delayed about answering my letters.

This time he hasn't written for two months. I wrote and gave him an opportunity to write me if he were still interested.

He hasn't written. We have always been fond of each other—as friends.

I don't want to write but I am loathe to lose his friendship.

W. H.

W. H.: Long-distance correspondence has a way of lapsing now and then. Wait. He may write you. At his next birthday or upon the anniversary of some mutual and charming experience you might pen him a short, gentle reminder. It may give a rebirth to memories and your friendship. That failing, my only advice is to forget him.

Bridge Repair Improves Road

Repair of bridges between these cities and Athens has greatly improved the Bee Line highway. The bridges close to Albany-Decatur have been repaired since the advent of the cotton season, during which time such heavy transportation has been passing over the road that the small bridges have been broken out. The roadway between here and Athens is in fairly good condition, though rough at various points.

WEAK, RESTLESS

Tennessee Lady Had So Little Strength She "Couldn't Get Around." Took Cardui With Benefit.

Gassaway, Tenn.—"I wasn't able to do any of my work, and it seemed like I had so little strength I just couldn't get around," says Mrs. Frank Murphy, who lives near here.

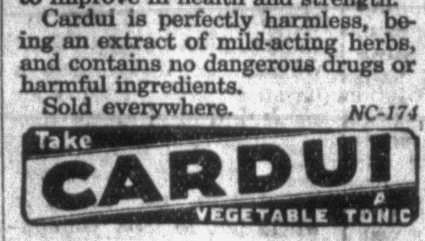

"My mother knew of the good Cardui could do, so she told me to take it. I sent and got a bottle, and seemed like all the time I grew stronger."

"I had been suffering with pains in my sides all the time, and Cardui helped this wonderfully. I needed a tonic for female trouble, and Cardui just fitted the need. I was awfully restless and could not sleep at night, but after taking two bottles of Cardui I could sleep like a top. I got along all right, and I know it was due to Cardui. I can certainly recommend it to women suffering from women's troubles."

"My present health is just fine." Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui relieved them of pain and suffering, and helped them to improve in health and strength.

Cardui is perfectly harmless, being an extract of mild-acting herbs, and contains no dangerous drugs or harmful ingredients.

Mix two glasses of fresh cream with the bouillon and pour over the bread and cheese.

Add very little salt to the bouillon because of the cheese.

AIRPLANES MUST SHOW NUMBERS 3 FEET HIGH WHEN OVER LOS ANGELES By International News Service

LOS ANGELES.—Local police are now enforcing an ordinance providing for license tags on airplanes. They aren't tags, such as tacked on the front and rear bumpers of your car; they are numbers three feet high painted on the bottom of the plane.

All airplanes flying from Los Angeles fields must have a number, so that machines flying too close over the city or committing any other breach of aerial etiquette can be checked.

Enforcement of the ordinance followed the death of two young girls who were recently killed on the beach when struck by a low flying plane, and as a result of the penchant of certain giddy pilots for flying at a dangerously low altitude over the Los Angeles coliseum during football games.

MANY PLEDGE AID TO COLLEGE FUND

Athens Merchants To Inaugurate Series of Trade Days

(By D. L. ROSENAN, Jr.)
$61,000 RAISED IN ATHENS ON ENDOWMENT

At a meeting of the teams working on the Athens College endowment drive Wednesday night it was found that $61,000 had been pledged in Athens for the endowment. This represents only two days work and it is now practically certain that the $75,000 set for Athens will be raised, even before the week closes. L. C. Hightower, local chairman, led the subscriptions with $25,000; a large number are found to have pledged, both large and small, and it is the aim of the committees to solicit every person in town. The campaign will be spread immediately to other counties. The teams have been meeting at the basement of the local Methodist church every night where a banquet and daily reports have been received.

TRADE DAY INAUGURATED

The Athens merchants and business men have inaugurated a series of trade days to begin at once and to continue through until Christmas.

D. L. Rosenau, is general chairman present on one occasion. D. L. Rosenau, Sr., is general chairman in charge and Grady Davis, secretary-treasurer. Walton Gray is director of publicity. It is believed that this plan will atone and make up for the decrease in trade brought about by the low prices of cotton.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IMPROVED

Improvements have just been completed on the local Presbyterian church which add greatly to the external appearance of the edifice. All the woodwork has been cleaned and re-painted, the doors reglazed, and the stonework cleaned and restored to its natural color. This is one of the oldest buildings in Athens and is located right on the public square, having been built there before business houses were erected on all sides.

MUSICAL COMEDY BIG SUCCESS

"Rosetime," the three act musical comedy presented by the Missionary Society of the First Methodist church here Friday night, proved a huge success, the hopes of the producers being more than realized. The presentation took place at Music Hall, Athens College, and both the main floor and balcony were crowded. The professional direction was in charge of Miss Eva Haire representing the Wayne P. Sewell Co., of Atlanta, and she is to be congratulated on the tremendous success of her undertaking. The settings and scenery were well designed, the dances well staged, and the acting at times was almost professional in character. Mrs. Walter Wilson, Jr., of Athens acted as director of music.

Lucille Darby was leading lady, and D. L. Rosenau, Jr., acted as leading man; Paul Gish and Frank Hatchett, the comedians of the show continually brought the house down with laughter during the performance. Others taking part were: Bill Crutcher, Rebecca Yeagan, Thos. S. Woodroff, Mary Bates, Jewell Hertzler, Benton Turentine, Lena Crawford, Margaret Foster Pointer of Decatur spent Wednesday in Athens.

Green Mason has returned from a trip to Montgomery.

News has been received here of the arrival of twins in the home of Butler P. Hine of Tuscaloosa, the happy event having occurred last week. Mr. Hine is a son of Col. Ernest Hine, ex-mayor of Athens, and Mrs. Hine.

A Mexican and an American who work on the night shift of a Kansas salt plant ate their mid-night lunch together. On several occasions the Mexican had rabbit meat in his pail, and he shared his supply generously with his comrade.

One night the American asked: "Where do you get rabbits, Jose? I can't find any."

"My wife, she get 'em," Jose replied. "She say ever' night they come 'round the house and make noise. She shoot 'em."

"Noise? Rabbits don't make noise."

TIDE FAVORED BY DOPE OVER TIGERS

Alabama Pits Varsity Against Sewanee In Birmingham

UNIVERSITY, Ala. Oct. 23.—Unless the dope goes wrong, Alabama will have another conference victory to her credit Saturday afternoon. But the Crimson, who left here late Friday afternoon for their game with Sewanee at Birmingham Saturday, are not taking anything for granted, especially this thing called "dope" that has been upset so many times this year, and are going out for a victory by sheer superior playing from the beginning of the game.

Alabama wound up their preparation by a light workout Friday afternoon. The week has been a severe one for the Crimson squad for the Crimson mentors fear a terrible fight from the Sewanee team and not one bit of over-confidence is being allowed to creep in at Denny Field. It has been secret practice all this week but it is not any secret that Sewanee plays have been used against the regulars.

It will be Alabama's first appearance in Birmingham this season, likely to be the first time that thousands of Crimson supporters have had the chance of seeing the Tide in action. Alabama will use her strongest line up against the Tigers, and if the Tide is half-way right they will be hard to beat.

After Sewanee comes Louisiana State, this game to feature homecoming day at the campus Saturday a week from today. Plans are being made to entertain one of the largest crowds ever to witness a homecoming game, with all the usual frills attached to the proper observance of homecoming day.

Tuck's Fifty Yard Dash Feature Of Baby Tide's Victory Over Howard

Floyd Tuck, former Central High school captain, last year captain of Morgan school team at Petersburg, Tenn., and now a backfield unit in Alabama's "Baby Tide" lost little time in making his presence felt in the freshman line up.

In Friday's clash between the Howard college rats and the Alabama first year team, Tuck's 50-yard dash through the line of scrimmage was the big feature. Alabama won 19 to 6.

Tuck makes the second member there of the old Central High school championship team (the eleven which defeated Cullman the year that team won the championship play-off). Pepper already is a member of the Alabama varsity. In this connection it is good to recall that Sewell, another tackle that year, found little trouble making the Sewanee freshman team the next year, before his eyes forced him out of the line-up.

Joe Guston, quarterback of that rather famous eleven, plans to enter the University of Alabama next year. Who knows, there may come a time when Pepper, Tuck and Guston will be displaying their ball-toting ability together again, but for Alabama instead of the local high school.

Now if some ardent Alabama advocate, who enjoys the present flow of the Tide and wishes devoutly for a continuation thereof, can persuade "Boss" Burns, another member of that Purple and Gold wrecking crew, to go to Bama, he will have done much to insure additional strong lines at the university.

Playing only one year of football, his last year in high school, Burns absorbed football lore with the rapidity of a sponge. Weighing somewhere in the neighborhood of the 200 mark and being blessed with sufficient strength to move bodily most football defenses, "Boss" would be a whizz at Alabama. What a linesman Wallace Wade could make of the local youth!

Interests of local grid fans are divided today. Atlanta, Birmingham and Nashville all are drawing their share of attention. Over in Atlanta, Tech will try to even up for an indifferent season by smashing the Washington and Lee Generals, who won a tie from Princeton recently. In Nashville, Vanderbilt expects to twist the Georgia Bulldog's tail. Lewis Hardage, Vandy coach, said before the Alabama game that Vanderbilt would be one of the strongest teams in Dixie by the first of November. The Nashville sport writers state Vandy is coming along slowly, so a Vanderbilt victory over the vaunted Georgia team would not be surprising.

If Alabama fails to skin the Sewanee Tiger in Birmingham today, there will be many disappointed people in Albany-Decatur. Sewanee has a heavy team, but an inexperienced one. The Tiger will fight, but appears to have little chance.

If anyone can figure a more sportsman-like arrangement than this they have the privilege of doing so. So far as The Daily is concerned, it wins the gold headed walking cane.

ALBANY LOSES TO COFFEE HI 20 TO 0

Florentines Outrush Forward Wall To Add to Total

Albany Hi dropped a notch in grid standing Friday afternoon before Coffee Hi at Florence 20-0. Coffee resorting to straight football in the last half to pile up a commanding lead. A 70 yard run near the close of the first half by Cathey featured the afternoon. Cathey returned a punt over half the length of the field to score Coffee's initial counter. Malone's kick for goal bounced across the bar for the seventh point.

Albany and Florence apparently were very evenly matched until the break that brought Florence the initial touchdown. The two teams had waged war up and down the field getting an even number of first downs. Late in the second quarter Perle punted to Cathey. Albany ends were slow in getting down and Cathey was away on the sideline for his record run. His team blocked well in warding off Albany tacklers.

third quarter Florence hammered straight through the Albany line for a second touchdown, the Albany forwards giving step by step until the powerful line attack had crossed. Malone kicked the goal.

The third touchdown came as the result of an intercepted pass in the fourth quarter. Florence then hitting the line to take it across, only a matter of a few scant yards. Malone missed the goal.

Albany uncorked an attack late in the fourth period, coupled with a pair of good runs by Perle and Henry Papenburg, but the final whistle ended with the ball deep in Florence territory. It was the only drive of the locals during the afternoon.

The Albany team was outplayed outought and outgeneraled in the last half of the game, Malone directing the attack in veteran fashion. He likewise bore the brunt of the Florence defense, directing the play of his team.

Bishop played his usual good game for the homelings, while Papenburg successfully ended any stabs at his flank. The remainder of the team did not play up to standard.

A FARMER asked us the other day why A. Polytinsky pays more for cotton than any other buyer.

The Answer Is Easy

Having buying power in four towns, Hartselle, Athens, Decatur and Albany, the volume enables us to pay better prices.
